Market Commentary

Global equity markets continued to push higher into year end, buoyed by an extremely favourable liquidity environment and rising optimism regarding the extent of economic recovery likely in 2021. Governments across the world are rushing to administer vaccines for the coronavirus and this has allowed investors to look through the current deterioration in newsflow regarding the pandemic. News of several virus mutations emerged throughout the quarter and newly recorded infections surged higher.

Restriction on mobility have been stepped up in an attempt to contain the spread and mitigate the pressure on healthcare workers. The hope is that these measures will buy enough time for the vaccines to offer a measure of protection to those most at risk from the virus. November saw 'Pfizer Monday', when news first broke regarding the encouraging efficacy of the vaccine developed by Pfizer and BioNTech. This news led to a sharp rebound in investor confidence. Materials and Financials both outperformed again in December and were among the best performing sectors in Q4. Industrials fared less well in December, reflecting higher investor expectations for the sector, though the sector still outperformed over the quarter. Energy also slightly underperformed in December, despite the ongoing depreciation of the USD against its trading partners and continued positivity regarding commodity prices. November's strength, however, meant that Energy vied with Financials for the best performer in Q4. The main reason why December looked more like the rest of 2020 than November was found in the performance of the Information Technology sector. Having served as a source of funds for more cyclical investments in November, the Technology sector enjoyed a much better December, easily outperforming the market and rivalling Materials for the best performing sector. Defensive sectors underperformed fairly consistently this quarter. Healthcare, Consumer Staples, Real Estate and Utilities all failed to keep up with the market, with Real Estate, Healthcare and Consumer Staples actually delivering negative returns in absolute terms.

Fund Commentary

The fund returned 2.63% for the month and 7.33% over the quarter to outperform the Index. All three managers gained more than 7% over the quarter. Among the fund's top contributors to performance over the quarter were the South American online retailer Mercadolibre (WCM's top holding), Taiwan Semiconductor, HDFC Bank and SVB Financial Group. HDFC Bank benefitted from better than expected quarterly results and from signs that the Indian economy may have seen the worst of the impact from COVID-19. SVB Financial Group also performed strongly over the quarter. Whilst most banks are being impacted by ultra-low interest rates and lighter-than-usual demand for commercial loans, SVB continues to lend heavily to the venture capitalist community through capital call lines of credit, which offer higher interest rates. The fund continues to hold a combination of cyclicals and reasonably priced growth stocks, all of which we expect to deliver rising returns. With considerable uncertainty regarding the duration of some of the recent market moves, we believe that this balance will remain important going forward.
