Market commentary

Global equity markets extended their gains in May as the Technology sector continued to hit record highs. The Nasdaq Index reached 6200 as shares like Apple, Amazon, Alibaba, Facebook, Google and Microsoft all rose to their highest levels ever. While the MSCI All Countries World Index (ACWI) returned 2.28% (USD) in May, the result was -1.13% (NZD, unhedged) for domestic investors after a 3% surge by the NZ dollar during the second half of the month. Utilities (up 2.0%), Technology (up 1.4%) and Consumer Staples (up 1.1%) were the best performing sectors, while Financials (down 3.2%) struggled. Energy (down 4.8%) was the worst performing sector as the oil price continued to fall during May despite production cuts being announced by OPEC. Across regions, European equity markets were among the best performing, as Emmanuel Macron was elected as French President, providing some relief to investors that certain political risks are moderating. Emerging market performance was mixed with Brazil declining more than 8%, while China and South Korea outperformed.

Fund commentary

WCM (up 1.66%) and Epoch (up 0.14%) contributed the most to performance, while PGI (down 0.99%) and Davis (down 1.08%) performed marginally better than the benchmark return of -1.13%. Sector allocation added value largely due to the overweight to Information Technology and the underweight to Financials. Strong stock selection was however the main driver of performance. The main contributors came from the Consumer Discretionary and Information Technology sectors. Helping the most were overweights to Amazon (up 4%), Mercadolibre (up 16%), New Oriental (up 7%) and JD.com (up 10%). Among the Fund's Consumer Staples holdings, household products distributor Reckitt-Benckiser (up 7.5%) and packaged food manufacturer Nestle (up 7%) performed the best. Meanwhile Wells Fargo (down 7.5%) was the biggest detractor among Financials, while HDFC Bank (up 6.7%) managed to buck the trend among its peers.

Online consumer service ratings company Angie's List was the highlight of the month, surging 98% to its highest level in three years, after the company agreed to be acquired by IAC/InterActiveCorp (IAC) in a deal that valued Angie's List at about USD 505 million. The price jumped well above the bid of USD 8.50 a share and closed the month at USD 12.04, representing a 41% premium to IAC's offer, and close to Angie's 2011 initial-public-offering price of USD 13. Its latest plan to acquire Angie's List and merge it with its own HomeAdvisor will make it the leader in matching homeowners with home services. IAC derives about 75% of its revenue from the USA.
