What are the risks of investing?

Risk indicator for the NZ Cash Fund:

The risk indicator is rated from 1 (low) to 7 (high). The rating reflects how much the value of the fund's assets goes up and down. A higher risk generally means higher potential returns over time, but more ups and downs along the way.

To help you clarify your own attitude to risk, you can seek financial advice or work out your risk profile at www.sorted.org.nz/tools/investor-kickstarter.

Note that even the lowest category does not mean a risk-free investment, and there are other risks that are not captured by this rating.

This risk indicator is not a guarantee of a fund's future performance. The risk indicator is based on the returns data for the five year period to June 2019.¹ While risk indicators are usually relatively stable, they do shift from time to time. The risk indicator will continue to be updated in future fund updates. See the product disclosure statement (PDS) for more information about the risks associated with investing in this fund.

Example of how this applies to an investor

Small differences in fees and charges can have a big impact on your investment over the long term. For the purpose of this example, the start of the year is 1 April 2018².

Simon had $10,000 in the fund at the start of the year and did not make any further contributions. There were no management fees charged during this period. At the end of the year, Simon received a return after fund charges were deducted of $266 (that is 2.66% of his initial $10,000). Simon also paid $30 in other charges. Notes

¹ Because the fund is less than five years old, the risk indicator uses returns data partly from returns of the fund, and partly (from July 2014 to March 2018) from the Bloomberg NZBond Bank Bill index. As a result of this, the risk indicator may provide a less reliable indicator of the potential future volatility of the fund.

² Performance has been calculated from 23 April 2018, when the first investment was made in the fund.

³ The bar chart shows fund returns after the deduction of fees and taxes, however, the market index returns are shown before any fees or taxes are deducted.

⁴ All investments in this fund update are described in New Zealand dollars.
