What are the risks of investing?

Risk indicator for Nikko AM Freedom Fund

The risk indicator is rated from 1 (low) to 7 (high). The rating reflects how much the value of the fund's assets goes up and down. A higher risk generally means higher potential returns over time, but more ups and downs along the way.

To help you clarify your own attitude to risk, you can seek financial advice or work out your risk profile at <https://sorted.org.nz/tools/investor-profiler/>.

Note that even the lowest category does not mean a risk-free investment, and there are other risks that are not captured by this rating.

This risk indicator is not a guarantee of a fund's future performance. The risk indicator is based on the returns data for the five year period to March 2025¹. While risk indicators are usually relatively stable, they do shift from time to time. The risk indicator will continue to be updated in future fund updates.

See the product disclosure statement (PDS) for more information about the risks associated with investing in this fund.

How has the fund performed?

	Past year
Annual return (after deductions for charges and tax)	6.90%
Annual return (after deductions for charges but before tax)	6.90%
Market index annual return (reflects no deduction for charges and tax)	6.36%

Nikko AM is relying on the Financial Markets Conduct (Market Index) Exemption Notice 2018 and have created a composite index in order to calculate the market index annual return. The Manager believes the use of a composite benchmark for these funds would be useful to investors in assessing the performance of the fund as a whole. The composite market index for each fund is made up of the index of the underlying sector funds (where an Appropriate Market Index or Peer Group Index is available) multiplied by the respective target investment mix.

Additional information is available on the offer register at <https://disclose-register.companiesoffice.govt.nz/>.

Annual return graph²

This shows the return after fund charges and tax for each year ending 31 March since the fund started. The last bar shows the average annual return since the fund started, up to 31 March 2025.

Important: This does not tell you how the fund will perform in the future.

Returns in this update are after tax at the highest prescribed investor rate (PIR) of tax for an individual New Zealand resident. Your tax may be lower.

What fees are investors charged?

Investors in the Nikko AM Freedom Fund are charged fund charges. In the year to 31 March 2025, these were (inclusive of GST where applicable):

	% of net asset value
Total fund charges¹	0.30%
Which are made up of:
Total management and administration charges	0.30%
Including:
Manager's basic fee	0.30%
Other management and administration charges	0.00%
Total performance-based fees	0.00%

Donated management fee: As noted above, we charge an annual management fee to the Fund. However, this fee is not retained by us, instead it is fully donated to the charity each month. There are no charges for underlying investment costs – no Supervisor's fee and administration costs (such as audit fees, registry services, unit pricing and accounting services).

See the Nikko AM Freedom Fund PDS for more information.

Example of how this applies to an investor

Small differences in fees and charges can have a big impact on your investment over the long term.

Simon had $10,000 in the fund at the start of the year and did not make any further contributions. At the end of the year, Simon received a return after fund charges were deducted of $690 (that is 6.90% of his initial $10,000). Simon also paid no other charges. This gives Simon a total return after tax of $690 for the year.³

In the example above, the returns made by Simon's investment are retained by the fund and/or donated to charity.

Notes

¹ As the fund is less than five years old, the risk indicator uses returns data (for the period 1 April 2020 to 30 September 2021), from the composite index. As a result of this, the risk indicator may provide a less reliable indicator of the potential future volatility of the fund.

² The bar chart shows fund returns after the deduction of fees and taxes.

³ For the purpose of this example, the start of the year is 1 April 2024.

⁴ All investments in this fund update are described in New Zealand dollars.
